

THE RECORD OF IT.

In referring to the APPEAL's allusion to Mr. DeYoung kicking up a bobby in the Chicago Convention, along with Creed Haymond, the Enterprise gives what it claims as the true record of the opinion as follows:

How did Michael DeYoung act at the National Republican Convention two years ago? But two members of that convention from California raised their voice for further purpose than to vote—Creed Haymond and — Gage. Gage spoke for five minutes, and not a word of his speech was heard by the reporters, and Haymond managed to raise a laugh by saying that California cast her electoral vote for the plumed knight from Maine, James G. Blaine, every time the name of California was called by the Secretary except the last call, Michael DeYoung did not open his bugle once. The gentlemen from Nevada alternated in answer to the roll-call, and too much credit cannot be given to the secretaries who registered the vote correctly, as it required a marvelous acuteness of ear to hear them.

The APPEAL in speaking of what was done at the Convention means everything that transpired of a political nature during the session of the Convention.

It alluded more particularly to the caucus of Pacific Coast delegates where Senator Jones acted as Chairman.

It was proposed to unite the Pacific Coast forces and then demand recognition of the Coast before centering on a nominee.

DeYoung rose up in this caucus and remarked that so far nothing had been done in reference to Blaine and asserted that his delegation would go into no combination which did not look to the nomination of Blaine.

Thus the caucus broke up and was unable to unite and as a natural result, lost Blaine and everything else.

This is the inside history of the matter and our authority is Senators Jones and Stewart.

We are told that a competent "lady" is to be found to take charge of the cooking classes to be organized by the Young Women's Christian Association. It is too bad that this organization should be put to so much trouble. Could they not have found a competent "woman?" The fair sex make too much work about these matters. If the lords of creation need a bookkeeper, they do not institute a search for a "gentleman;" they go right out and get a "man." When a "woman" is continually described as a "lady," it looks suspicious. It seems to give evidence that some person had intimated that she is not a lady, and that her friends felt impelled to come to the rescue of her reputation.—Sacramento Bee.

Our local preacher has not been seen since the snowslide. Just before the calamity he stared off with a demijohn, saying that he was going to make a new contribution-box. It is probable that he forgot himself and camped somewhere before he reached the parsonage, or he may have wandered off into the wilderness to holler like John the Baptist. Anyhow, we'll find him when the snow melts.—Homer Index.

James H. Moore of Fort Worth, Texas, whose cattle interests are the largest in the south-west, tells the San Francisco papers that the days of cattle kings and cowboys are numbered. The small farmer is slowly but steadily crowding them out, and in a few years they will be gone, like buffalo and Indian.

Anna Dickenson wants hell's floor wiped with her enemies. That's the way lots of us feel about other people who also feel the same way about us.

The Nevada people are talking of nominating Senator Stewart for the Presidency; which makes a good many people laugh.
